Bina Puri granted Saudi Arabia licence, starts bids

The builder has tendered for more than a dozen projects worth RM40m to RM500m

by LEE CHENG WEE

BINA Puri Holdings Bhd is venturing into Saudi Arabia in search of construction projects after its joint venture (JV) company Bina Puri Saudi Co Ltd was granted a licence. The company has tendered for more than a dozen projects ranging from RM40 million to RM500 million.

"We are bidding for infrastructure and building projects worth close to RM1 billion. But we are careful in Saudi Arabia as there are Malaysian companies not getting paid there," said executive director Matthew Tee after the company's annual general meeting yesterday.

Saudi Arabia is the latest addition to Bina Puri's overseas markets after it secured projects in Brunei, Thailand, Pakistan and UAE.

In total, Bina Puri is now bidding for construction jobs worth RM4 billion including two packages of the new LKCT terminal, Unisistem Islam Antarabangsa Malaysia (UIAM) in Pahang and the Gombak integrated transport terminal.
